

ASPIRE Consulting ■ People Driving Technology

When you look at the history of any industry you'll find people who are engaged in pushing the envelope regarding technology, design, or product performance in their respective fields. It is often the act of finding solutions and considering new possibilities that becomes the fuel for innovation and growth.

At ASPIRE Consulting, we hone the concepts of Elite Support, Innovative Performance and Value Solutions into our philosophy for building strong client relationships. We help our clients select, integrate, and deploy creative business and technology solutions that support effective communication, pro-active innovation, and strategic growth. This melding of technology and people allows us to establish long-term relationships with our clients built upon:

- Unyielding Standards of Excellence
- Extensive Professional Experience
- Depth of Knowledge and Expertise
- Versatile Business Adaptability
- Accountability and Dedication
- People-Focused Values

Elite Support

ASPIRE consultants are trained and certified in a broad range of software systems. Our consultants become an integral part of your organization. We partner with you to identify your specific business needs, then establish and fine-tune the goals, strategies, and metrics for your project with those needs in mind. We have the experience to implement complex business applications in virtually any environment.

We hire only the best. At ASPIRE Consulting, we consider our consultants to be champions in our industry — an elite team of technology experts pre-programmed with Experience, Expertise and Efficiency. As Oracle and Microsoft partners, we have the rigorous technical training and broad industry experience you expect, surpassed only by our hands-on client interaction.

- Trained to deliver a project from initial concept to final go-live and support, our consultants utilize industry standards, best practices and proven methodology to detect inefficiencies, underutilization and vulnerabilities. We respond by formulating solutions poised to meet even the most rigorous of demands.
- Skilled in the latest technologies — from creating portals for communication, to designing websites with advanced features, to developing business intelligence for accurately reporting and measuring your company's success — our consultants integrate comprehensive solutions designed to champion your company's message.

Led by business partners John Kovac and Kim Liebert, our precision team of consultants stands ready to help steer your business in a positive direction. We see your organization's unique characteristics as an opportunity to create stream-lined, cost-effective solutions that support your industry and company-specific objectives.

Innovative Performance

At ASPIRE Consulting, we believe technology solutions provide a strong catalyst for change within an organization. Our world-class solutions balance our clients' dual demands for technical innovation and controllable costs. Most importantly, these strategic solutions enable our clients to achieve high levels of performance resulting in a positive business impact.
